GUDERIAN, Colonel General

Having been out of the news for some time, has been made Inspector General of Tank Forces and joins 'a group of men who are endowed with special powers by the Führer for concentration of all their respective spheres for victory'; as he was already Chief of the Inspection Staff for German Mechanized Troops and Commander of Panzer Units, it is not clear whether this implies a promotion or is intended merely to bring Guderian's name again into prominence while HALDER and others are actually running things from behind the scenes.

Known as the 'phantom general' / born in Pomerania; son of Imperial Army officer; according to some, of Rumanian extraction; joined German army in 1907; served with 5th Cavalry in first War; became a signal officer, and by 1917 was captain on General Staff after 1918 entered War Ministry; in 1930 took over difficult task of building up a Prussian motorized division, training men in card-board tanks; was not prominent as a Nazi, but by energy and deception he built up armored divisions under the very eyes of League of Nations etc.; tested his tanks in Spanish Civil War and made spectacular success in Polish campaign; partook in French and Netherlands invasion / believes in airplane support of tanks and armored forces, but in tanks as chief weapon / warned Germans in July 1941 that war in Russia 'will lead to a war of exhaustion which might lead to the bankruptcy of Germany'; was severely defeated on Moscow front in January 1942 and was recalled in disgrace.

GUDERIAN, Col. Gen. HEINZ

Developed pneumonia / for years before the war had advocated development of an ersatz lubricant / his return to favor was first rumored in November 1942 when he was mentioned as one of 'specialists' being held in reserve by Hitler; on November 22, he was reported in Tunisia, replacing von NEHRING, his former chief of staff, who was not getting on well with ROMMEL; von ARNIM eventually took command in Tunisia / on February 21, Guderian was appointed 'inspector general' of all German tank forces and immediately a ruthless rushing tactic developed in Africa; as he advocates this kind of warfare, rumors that he is now in North Africa may be true.
